DOUBLE PROTECTION FOR YAMAHA'S YZF125R

Skidmarx Double Bubble Screen and Headlight Covers for Yamaha's YZF125R

Top British Superbike racing teams like Yamaha Phase One, Vent Axia Honda and TAS Relentless Suzuki depend on quality components to ensure a first class performance in every round. All those teams, and many more, rely on Skidmarx to develop screens for their racing machines. The design team at Skidmarx works closely with riders and engineers to ensure maximum performance, top class rider protection and a perfect fit for each racing screen, and this expertise and experience has been transferred to their latest road-based products; a double bubble screen and matching headlight covers for the Yamaha YZF125R.

Manufactured at the Skidmarx factory in Weymouth using 3mm acrylic, the YZF125R double bubble screen is designed to enhance the aerodynamics of the bike and significantly increases the size of the air pocket behind the screen, giving the rider much greater protection at speed. Available in clear and tinted options, both priced £49.95 each – coloured versions are also available for a £6 surcharge – the YZF125R double bubble fits uses the existing mounting points and fasteners; no drilling or expensive fitting kits are required. A standard version is also available at £39.95.

Completing the package is a matching set of headlight covers – priced £19.50 – which offer essential protection to valuable light units from stone chips and road debris. Formed from the same high quality 3mm acrylic as the screen, the covers are held securely in place with Scotch Lock fixing pads; again no need for costly or fiddly fitting kits. They are available in clear, tinted and coloured versions, to match the screen perfectly.
